EZEKIEL'S VISION OF DRY BONES

That vision of a valley full of jumbled dry bones, illustrated how outwardly hopeless the state of Jerusalem and the exiles was. No wonder they wept as they sat by the rivers of Babylon.

How could God's promised son of David arise to establish for them His idyllic everlasting kingdom? This is behind the question posed to Ezekiel. "Can these bones live?"

THE 300 SILENT/GOLDEN YEARS

Dan.9:24-27 predicts 69 x 7 years from a decree to rebuild Jerusalem (that by Artaxerxes. Neh.2 etc.) to the coming of an anointed one (Messiah). There is little on record about the Jewish nation from the time of Ezra and Nehemiah up to the revolt under Antiochus Epiphanies. That is why they are termed "The Silent Years". Tranquillity, being "uneventful", does not hit the headlines.

The rebellion that Antiochus Epiphanies provoked, is recorded in the historical books of the Maccabees. These are found in Roman Catholic bibles and in the Greek Septuagint, but not in the Hebrew scriptures. The Jews considered Malachi (circa BC 400) to be the last prophet ("the seal of the prophets"). No writings since his were included in the Hebrew scriptures.

Before Antiochus Epiphanies, whilst under the protection of Persia and Greece, the Jews lived in tranquillity. They did not even need their own defence force (Zechariah 2:4-5). There was no oppression or interference in their culture or religion. They were not affected by wars or internal strife. Aramaic was their mother tongue and Greek the international language. Scholars translated the scriptures into Greek and Aramaic paraphrases, called Targums, were written. Synagogue worship was developed bringing knowledge of the scriptures to the whole population. Regrettably rabbis (Jewish religious teachers) added many traditions of their own.
